What it changes for you

Your page, your brand

Logo, colours and a public page under your name. Visitors see your identity, not ours.

Found from your town

Your trail appears on your town's page and in the public catalogue — where the people planning their visit are already looking.

An end-of-season report

A PDF report: number of games, success rate, average duration, month-by-month attendance. Enough to report back to an elected official or a funder.

No app budget

A QR code on a sign or a leaflet is enough: the game opens in the browser. The app stays available for playing offline.

How it works

1. You write the trail

Your own staff or a contractor: the trail is written in the back office and tested in the browser before anything goes live.

2. You publish it

Free or paid, you decide. A game submitted to the public catalogue is reviewed against criteria published in advance.

3. You measure

Attendance, success, drop-offs, seasonality. The report arrives as a PDF, ready to be attached to a review.

The plan we recommend

Organisation

1 490 € / year

Billed annually

- Several linked accounts
- Your own public page, logo and colours
- No commission on your sales

The Organisation plan is the one built for institutions: up to ten linked accounts for your departments and contractors, your own branded public page, no commission on your sales, and publication reviews within two working days.

The three plans

Feature	Discovery	Pro	Organisation
Price	Free	39 € / month	1 490 € / year
Review turnaround for publication	within 10 working days	within 5 working days	within 2 working days
Commission on public sales	25 %	10 %	0 %

No commitment on the Pro plan. Prices exclude VAT. Commission applies only to games sold through the public catalogue: a free game, or one handed out by access code, is never charged. Stripe card fees remain yours.

Tell us about your project

Tell us what you want people to discover, and who for. We will show you the tool on your own area, not on a generic demo.
